What is Periodic Reporting?

Periodic Reporting is one of the core conservation monitoring mechanisms of the World Heritage Convention. Every six years, the States Parties are invited to submit to the World Heritage Committee a Periodic Report on the application of the World Heritage Convention in their territory.

Article 29 of the World Heritage Convention

1. The States Parties to this Convention shall, in the reports which they submit to the General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization on state and in a manner to be determined by it, give information on the legislative and administrative provisions which they have adopted and other action which they have taken for the application of the Convention, together with details of the experience acquired in the field.
2. These reports shall be brought to the attention of the World Heritage Committee.
3. The Committee shall submit a report on its activities at each of the ordinary sessions of the General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Operational Guidelines

Periodic Reporting is a self-reporting process and should be led as far as possible by the States Parties in each region. The Secretariat coordinates and facilitates the Periodic Reporting Process at the global level. States Parties may request expert advice from the Advisory Bodies and the Secretariat, which may also, with agreement of the States Parties concerned, commission further expert advice.

The screenshot shows the UNESCO World Heritage Centre website. The main heading is "Periodic Reporting Questionnaire". Below it, a colorful world map graphic is displayed. A login form is visible on the right side of the page. The page also includes a navigation menu on the left and a section titled "Section I and II" with introductory text.

Access to specific State Party or World Heritage property Periodic Reporting questionnaire is restricted to National Focal Points and World Heritage Site Managers. However, a demo version of the questionnaire sections I and II is available below.

Section I and II

Each World Heritage Site Manager is responsible for completing Section I of the Questionnaire for their respective World Heritage site, while the National Focal Point is responsible for the completion of Section I and for validating Section II of the questionnaire after it is completed by the respective Site Manager(s).

Completing the questionnaire

Sections I and II of the revised questionnaire have been pre-filled by the World Heritage Centre with information contained in official documents. However, Site Managers and National Focal Points are invited to complete and update this information.

Filling in the questionnaire requires the gathering of substantial amounts of information. Hence, the time necessary to fill in the questionnaire depends on the availability and accessibility of this information. It is recommended to start the exercise as soon as possible in order to set an overview of the information needed.

Question 5.2.5  Guidance  reset

Is the legal framework (i.e. legislation and/or regulation) in the broader setting of the World Heritage property adequate for maintaining the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of integrity and/or Authenticity of the property?

Please indicate which of the suggested answers most closely reflects the current status of the property. Please consider the answer you gave in 5.2.2, and which of these applies outside the buffer zone (if one exists) and outside the property.

Key terms

- Authenticity
- broader setting
- integrity
- legal framework, World Heritage
- legal framework, partially adequate
- Outstanding Universal Value
- protection and management
- World Heritage Property

legal framework, partially adequate
A partially adequate legal framework may for example cover some but not all types of heritage. Some legal frameworks may be considered as not up to date with contemporary needs and challenges. In some cases, there may be multilayer and multidisciplinary legal frameworks in place, but with gaps when it comes to identifying the full breadth of cultural and/or natural heritage.

5.2.1 There is no legal framework for the broader setting of the World Heritage property

5.2.2 The legal framework for the broader setting of the World Heritage property is inadequate to ensure the maintenance of the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the property

5.2.3 An adequate legal framework exists for the broader setting of the World Heritage property, but there are some deficiencies in implementation which undermine the maintenance of the Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity of the property

5.2.4 The legal framework for the broader setting of the World Heritage property provides an adequate basis for effective management and protection of the property, contributing to the maintenance of its Outstanding Universal Value including conditions of Authenticity and/or Integrity

Tracking progress

The online questionnaires will automatically track the completion progress of the questionnaire whenever the 'Save' button is pressed.

Assistance - Guidance

Clicking on 'Guidance' provides additional information about an item.

Locking/unlocking

National Focal Points can lock/unlock a questionnaire. When a questionnaire is locked, it cannot be modified by the Site Manager. If the questionnaire concerning your property is locked, please consult your national Focal Point.

Submitting

Only Focal Points can submit a questionnaire to the World Heritage Centre when it has been completed (i.e. the progress bar has reached 100%). Once a questionnaire is submitted to the World Heritage Centre, it cannot be further modified by the Focal Point or Site Manager.

Exports

The questionnaire can be exported as a PDF or Microsoft Word (.docx) format. The user is provided with the option of exporting the full questions and answers (Export Full) or shorter, abbreviated questions and answers (Export Short). In both cases, answers already filled in will be included in the exported version. Summaries or calculated questions can only be exported after filling in the preceding relevant questions.

Questionnaire user interface

The report page contains five main areas:

► The top navigation bar

The buttons on the top navigation bar allow the user quick access to the home page, help topics/guidance notes, language selection, print/export functions at any part of the questionnaire.

► The pages bar

This bar appears on the top navigation bar only when consulting a Periodic Reporting questionnaire, and provides internal navigation within the questionnaire. It provides four different ways to navigate within the report:

- Clicking on the arrows on each side of the bar will take the user to the previous or next page.
- Clicking on a page number will take the user directly to that page.
- Clicking the 'Navigation' button will open the navigation panel, showing all the chapters of the questionnaire.
- Clicking the '+' button expands the questionnaire tree, and directly clicking on a chapter or a specific sub-page/questions leads directly to that page/question.

► Progress

Tick marks indicate mandatory questions. Questions with a grey tick mark still need to be filled in. Those with a green tick have been completed. Green flags indicate optional questions.

Please observe that when navigating in the questionnaire, content must be saved by pressing the 'Save' button (see below) before changing page to avoid losing data.

► Tracking progress

The online tool will automatically track the completion progress of the questionnaire whenever the 'Save' button is pressed. The next time the user accesses the online questionnaire, a direct link to the last consulted page will appear.

► Save button

The 'Save' button at the bottom of the page allows the user to save the questionnaire (without leaving the page). Once the questionnaire is saved, a confirmation message appears. Changing pages does not save answers. You must manually save the data before leaving each page.

Periodic Reporting Questionnaire: Question types/ Typy otázek

Different types of questions

The questionnaire incorporates fourteen main question types.

1. Confirmation – Confirm or suggest modifications on prefilled information by clicking the correct option and, if required, filling in the textbox.
2. Radio buttons – Choose the most relevant answer (only one possible answer) and/or fill in the 'Other' field where applicable.
3. Check boxes – Choose the relevant answers (multiple answers possible) and/or fill in the 'Other' field where applicable.
4. Rating scales – Rate the given statement based on the corresponding scale in the table.
5. Add items – Fill in the required fields and add as many items as necessary.
6. Open comments – Provide your answer to the question in text format.
7. Percentages – Provide percent values for each corresponding category. If required, the sum has to be 100% by either column or row, as described in the question.
8. Grid (Combination of elements) – The question types described above may be combined in the form of a table. In this case, instructions on how to fill in this table are provided within the question.
9. Multiple choice – Select the option(s) that correlate(s) best with the situation pertaining to your property from the options provided.
10. Factors - identify factors that could affect any type of World Heritage property. The first stage in the assessment is to select each factor to indicate if this factor is relevant or not relevant to the property. If a factor was reported as causing an impact in the last Periodic Report, then you will automatically be asked to consider that factor in this cycle. This assessment will ask you about the impact and origin of the factor. If your property is a national or transnational serial site, then you will have the option of identifying which component(s) is/are affected by a particular factor.

You will be asked to identify whether the impact of the factor is positive and/or negative; whether it is current and/or potential and whether the origin of the factor is inside and/or outside of the property. You will also be asked to specify whether the factor is having a decreasing, stable or increasing impact. At the end of the list of factors there is an opportunity (question 4.14) to add any additional factors which affect the property but which have not been covered in 4.1 to 4.13.

11. Rating scales on multiple columns – Rate the given statement based on the corresponding scale in the table on several columns.
12. Percentage on multiple columns - Provide percent values for each corresponding category on multiple columns.
13. Grid with input field
14. Grid inverted (inverted column and rows).
15. Priority actions assessment – Prioritise information and provide further details.

Identification of attributes

Attributes, more commonly called features in the case of natural properties, are those elements, processes or features that convey and make manifest the Outstanding Universal Value (OUV) of a property. Identification and understanding of their interrelationships are crucial to understanding OUV and therefore to ensuring appropriate protection and management mechanisms. Attributes should be the focus of protection and management. It is therefore very important that they should be identified for Periodic Reports on World Heritage properties.

The World Heritage Committee adopts a Statement of Outstanding Universal Value (SOUV) for each property either at the time of inscription on the World Heritage List or retrospectively for older properties. The Statement is the baseline for future management and encapsulates the attributes of OUV.

In each SOUV, a balance is sought between specificity and synthesis. Further detailed identification of the attributes of each property, covering the elements of which they are composed, their distribution within the property and their relationship with the immediate or wider setting, is key to solidly grounded and effective protection and management: the lack of a clear and detailed understanding of the attributes may undermine management efforts and cause serious difficulties to the recovery process in case of disasters.

Attributes can be physical qualities or fabric, or the relationships between them. Attributes can also be processes impacting on physical qualities, such as natural or agricultural processes, social arrangements or cultural practices that have shaped distinctive landscapes. For natural properties, they can include landscape features, habitats, aspects of environmental quality (such as intactness, high/pristine environmental quality), scale and naturalness of habitats, and size and viability of wildlife populations.

A useful technique for complex properties, in particular cultural ones, with a complex layering of attributes, is to map the important attributes and the values they convey. This mapping can assist with understanding the relationship between attributes. It can also highlight conflicts or management issues.

The point of departure for such a detailed analysis is always the SOUV, particularly the brief synthesis, the justification of the criteria and the statements of authenticity (for cultural and mixed properties only) and integrity. The first step is to extrapolate from the SOUV references to qualities, features, and characteristics that support the case for OUV and the criteria used for the property. In identifying attributes, it is possible to be more detailed than in the SOUV.

For cultural properties, integrity determines how well, in terms of completeness and intactness (including relationships, dynamic functions and processes), the attributes convey the OUV, while authenticity indicates through which attributes and sources of information OUV is truthfully and credibly expressed.

A suggested second step in further detailing the attributes includes analysing what makes up the attributes mentioned in the SOUV, listing these elements as well as mapping their location and density within the property.

Establishing a hierarchy among attributes, that is to say identifying which ones are crucial to convey the OUV and which ones may be considered complementary, could be a useful exercise for the prioritisation of management activities.

Attributes

According to the Resource Manual 'Preparing World Heritage Nominations', "Attributes are aspects of a property which are associated with or express the Outstanding Universal Value. Attributes can be tangible or intangible. The Operational Guidelines indicate a range of types of attribute which might convey Outstanding Universal Value, including:

- form and design;
- materials and substance;
- use and function;
- traditions, techniques and management systems;
- location and setting;
- language, and other forms of intangible heritage; and
- spirit and feeling (Paragraph 82).

This list is for guidance. It is essential that the attributes identified for a property should flow from the Statement of Outstanding Universal Value and the justification for the criteria. Attributes must be identified as they are vital to understanding authenticity and integrity, and are the focus of protection, conservation and management.

For natural properties, it is more common to speak of 'features', although the word attributes is sometimes used. Examples of attributes for natural properties could include:

- visual or aesthetic significance;
- scale of the extent of physical features or natural habitats;
- intactness of physical or ecological processes;
- naturalness, and intactness of natural systems;
- viability;
- rarity".

Chapter 3: Statement of Outstanding Universal Value – Identifikace atributů

Atributy identifikujte na základě znění Výjimečné světové hodnoty přijaté Výborem SD v době zápisu

Great Barrier Reef

The Great Barrier Reef is a site of remarkable variety and beauty on the north-east coast of Australia. It contains the world's largest collection of coral reefs, with 400 types of coral, 1,500 species of fish and 4,000 types of mollusc. It also holds great scientific interest as the habitat of species such as the dugong ('sea cow') and the large green turtle, which are threatened with extinction.

Outstanding Universal Value

Brief synthesis

As the world's most extensive coral reef ecosystem, the Great Barrier Reef is a globally outstanding and significant entity. Practically the entire ecosystem was inscribed as World Heritage in 1981, covering an area of 348,000 square kilometres and extending across a contiguous latitudinal range of 14° (10°S to 24°S). The Great Barrier Reef (hereafter referred to as GBR) includes extensive cross-shelf diversity, stretching from the low water mark along the mainland coast up to 250 kilometres offshore. This wide depth range includes vast shallow inshore areas, mid-shelf and outer reefs, and beyond the continental shelf to oceanic waters over 2,000 metres deep.

Within the GBR there are some 2,500 individual reefs of varying sizes and shapes, and over 900 islands, ranging from small sandy cays and larger vegetated cays, to large rugged continental islands

Chapter 3: Statement of Outstanding Universal Value – Posuzování stavu atributů

Stav atributů se posuzuje na základě čtyřbodové stupnice

- Lost: Loss or alteration to most aspects of this attribute has occurred and has caused a major loss of significance of this attribute.
- Seriously compromised: Loss or alteration of many aspects of this attribute has occurred, which is leading to a significant reduction in the significance of this attribute.
- Compromised: Some loss or alteration of the aspects of this attribute has already occurred, but their overall condition is not causing persistent or substantial effects to this attribute.
- Preserved: This attribute is essentially intact, and its overall condition is stable or improving. Available evidence indicates only minor, if any, disturbances, to this attribute

Chapter 4: Factors Affecting the Property/ Faktory působící na statek

▶ 4. Factors Affecting the Property

Chapter 4 gathers information on the range of factors that are currently affecting or have strong potential to affect the property, both positively and negatively.

This chapter provides you with a generic list which has been developed to identify factors that could affect any type of World Heritage property. The factors are grouped into 13 headings, which are then briefly explained. Beneath each heading a list of factors appears

The set of factors is parallel to the set of threats in the World Heritage State of Conservation database (<http://whc.unesco.org/en/factors/>).

The first stage in the assessment is to click the box below each factor to indicate if this factor is relevant or not relevant to the property. If a factor was reported as causing an impact in the last Periodic Report, then you will automatically be asked to consider that factor in this cycle. Please note that this assessment is about both positive and negative factors.

If the factor is not relevant, then move on to the next factor; if the factor is relevant then a second line of assessment questions will appear.

This assessment will ask you about the impact and origin of the factor. If your property is a national or transnational serial site, then you will have the option of identifying which component(s) is/are affected by a particular factor in your answers to questions 4.15/4.16.

You will be asked to identify whether the impact of the factor is positive and/or negative; whether it is current and/or potential and whether the origin of the factor is inside and/or outside of the property. You will also be asked to specify whether the factor is having a decreasing, stable or increasing impact.

At the end of the list of factors there is an opportunity (question 4.14) to add any additional factors which affect the property but which have not been covered in 4.1 to 4.13.

Reactive Monitoring

If your property has been the subject of a State of conservation report to the World Heritage Committee, within the framework of the Reactive Monitoring process, this link will open up the relevant entry in the World Heritage Centre's Information System on the State of Conservation of World Heritage properties. This will provide you with a reminder of the factors which have affected your property in the past sufficiently seriously for it to be referred to the World Heritage Committee. The database uses the same classification of factors as that used in Periodic Reporting. Please note that you will be asked later about follow-up to decisions of the World Heritage Committee.

Chapter 14: Good practices in the Implementation of World Heritage Convention/ Dobré příklady při naplňování Úmluvy

Exemple of good practice

Historic Areas of Istanbul, proposed by Turkey as a best practice, is interesting as a case study for the following aspects: district renewal projects, public involvement, declaration of renewal areas.

Summary provided by State Party

The Renewal Area covers an area of 90,942.16 m<sup>2</sup>, and situated within the Protection Zone of Land Walls, between Edirnekapi and Vatan Avenue. The project site covers 12 plots and 378 parcels. 46 of the registered properties feature civil architecture styles, while 15 are monumental structures. A 13,000 m<sup>2</sup> area owned by our Municipality has also been included in the project, in order to build and sufficiently meet the amount of housing needed.

The target here is to avoid demolishing taking place inside the area and reintegrate it with the city, based on a renewal model regarding the physical space, and allowing property owners to enjoy their property rights.

Registered properties were taken into great account during preparation of projects. As a result, 24 registered properties of that time were increased up to 30, together with the properties our Municipality proposed for registration. Renewal implementation project for the site was drawn up according to the draft design approved on 02.11.2007. The Conservation Board for Renewal Areas granted a plot-based approved in 2010. Properties were further analyzed while renewal implementation projects were drafted, and other structures were also spotted for registration. Thus, the number of registered properties featuring civil architecture styles increased to 46. Survey, restitution and restoration projects for all the registered properties within the renewal area were drafted and approved. All registered properties will be restored in accordance with approved projects. Studies have also started for restoration of the cultural properties within the site, such as monumental mosques and fountains, with the cooperation of the General Directorate of Foundations and Istanbul Metropolitan Municipality.

What is Periodic Reporting?

Periodic Reporting is one of the core conservation monitoring mechanisms of the World Heritage Convention. Every six years, the States Parties are invited to submit to the World Heritage Committee a Periodic Report on the application of the World Heritage Convention in their territory.

Article 29 of the World Heritage Convention

1. The States Parties to this Convention shall, in the reports which they submit to the General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization on dates and in a manner to be determined by it, give information on the legislative and administrative provisions which they have adopted and other action which they have taken for the application of this Convention, together with details of the experience acquired in this field.
2. These reports shall be brought to the attention of the World Heritage Committee.
3. The Committee shall submit a report on its activities at each of the ordinary sessions of the General Conference of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Operational Guidelines

Periodic Reporting is a self-reporting process and should be led as far as possible by the States Parties in each region. The Secretariat coordinates and facilitates the Periodic Reporting Process at the global level. States Parties may request expert advice from the Advisory Bodies and the Secretariat, which may also (with agreement of the States Parties concerned), commission further expert advice on the application of the Convention, together with details of the experience acquired in this field.
